2019 EASTER SPECIAL OFFERING

As Disciples, we all benefit from the fruit, the gifts, of our general ministries. These fruits are made possible through the connections and support that grow in collaboration with our regions and congregations.

Our general ministries provide critical resources to Disciples congregations, like stewardship campaign materials, loans and financial services, and space for community building around shared values and traditions.

Our ministries can bear these fruits because of our shared root system. We are rooted in Christ. As one branch of our vine grows, we can share more fruit with more people, from our doorsteps to the ends of the earth.

This Holy Week let us give of our own fruits to tend to the whole. Our ministries grow through your tending, nurturing, and caring. Your generous gifts to the Easter offering can transform our shared work.

THOUGHTS FROM YOUR GENERAL MINISTER & PRESIDENT

Regarding the shootings at New Zealand mosques

By Terri Hord Owens
Posted on March 15, 2019

Let people worship in peace. As Linda Sarsour said, "let people live."

We do not have the right to destroy because we disagree. Our nation must demonstrate its commitment to the freedom to live, and worship, for all, and be a model to the world. As long as vitriol and blind rhetoric demonize those who are not like you, we are sowing to the whirlwind ... hate has no place here.

We are diminished as human beings when any one of us is diminished. This must be true on US soil, and we must advocate for such all around the world.

WEEK OF COMPASSION "WATER OF LIFE"

Not long ago, I found myself preparing for a Week of Compassion delegation to Myanmar; our group would visit several sustainable development projects that are bringing new life to villages on the other side of the world.

A small but striking pagoda appeared on the horizon as we pulled into Ma Su. We were warmly greeted by local leaders who ushered us to a meeting room in their local monastery, situated on stilts like all of the buildings there. While we sipped tea and ate snacks that had been carefully prepared for us, different villagers took turns sharing stories about their lives.

Not long ago their entire village had been destroyed by a strong cyclone. That compounds the challenges they already face each year during the rainy season, when life is interrupted as dry ravines are transformed into swift tributaries. When the water rises, the village's livelihood dries up—children are unable to get to school, families can't make it to the market, and no one is able access emergency medical care if the need arises.

These challenges can be alleviated by simple types of infrastructure that we often take for granted.

Thanks to your generosity, Week of Compassion was able to build a bridge and install water pumps to provide safe, clean water throughout the year. Access to safe clean water affects all aspects of life, and these projects allow the village to flourish in new ways. Each water pump benefits the health and wellness of the community, and frees time that can be spent for education and economic opportunities.

We walked through fields of okra to visit the bridge, and then back to the village where a handful of water pumps dotted the walking path.

I'm grateful for the opportunity to travel to Myanmar and even more grateful for the life-changing work of Week of Compassion.

Join us Saturday, August 10 at Tawakoni for a day that will connect, celebrate and express our challenges as we reimagine what it is to be church.

Age-appropriate programs for children and youth are being planned. Possible activities include:

FEEDING THE HUNGRY ACROSS KANSAS

Churches across Kansas are reaching out to their communities to alleviate hunger. Maybe your congregation is considering offering something similar. Here are some of the ways that other churches do this.

Atchison FCC – In operation for over 14 years, the Atchison County Food Pantry is an ecumenical and community-based group, with volunteers from many different backgrounds. Open Monday, Wednesday, and Friday, people are welcome to receive food once a month.

Chanute FCC – God’s Pantry is open Tuesday and Thursday mornings. In 2018, they served more than 3500 people.

Coffeyville FCC – on the last Saturday of each month, the church offers a free community breakfast. In January 89 guests were served.

Emporia FCC – in coordination with the Salvation Army and the First United Methodist Church, the church’s food pantry is open two days a week. Each family is given standard items including protein, vegetables, and carbohydrates. Patrons appreciate the roll of toilet paper included in each bag. Patrons may choose extra items when available. Annually, over 560 families are served.

Girard FCC – The church has lead the way to making the community food pantry. Open a few days each week, several local churches have joined forces to make this vital ministry happen. the church hosts a pantry

Great Bend FCC — In addition to supporting the community food bank which provides meat, bread, and dairy items, the church has a small pantry of canned and dry goods for those in-between times and for transients.

Holton FCC – The church houses the local ministerial alliance’s Food Pantry.

Independence FCC – Serves a free community dinner every Tuesday night

Neodesha FCC – Serves a community breakfast on Sunday morning

Topeka FCC – Sack Lunch Ministry prepares 150 sack lunches that include a sandwich, a bag of chips, fruit and a granola bar. The sack lunch items are donated, assembled, and distributed by church members to the Topeka Rescue Mission every Sunday.

Wichita Faith CC – Tuesday Food Pantry
Wichita, Hillside CC -- Volunteer food pantry serves 50-65 households a week. They work with the larger Wichita Food Bank program and receive non-perishables as well as fresh food. Church members also donate clothing, hygiene products, and even refurbished bikes.

We’re confident that this list is not comprehensive, and that more Disciples churches are feeding the hungry. Have your own twist on keeping our hungry fed? Share with us!

Douglass First CC has a 10.5 foot pew available to an interested congregation. Contact the church office at 316-746-2221.
